

The English Department

Vision:

The English department will be a model of academic and research excellence in the field of English language and literature.

Mission:

The English Department at Jazan University is committed to enhance students' necessary literary, linguistic, and research skills to contribute to the national transformation programme and face challenges in today's globally competitive job market through the use of the most effective and innovative instructional practices, comprehensive and challenging curriculum, and a supportive environment.

Values:

Our values are basically derived from the teachings of Islam along with the concurrent global academic standards. The department intends to transpire in its wards intellectual acumen, integrity, honesty, transparency, accountability, and affiliation.
